I suggested, indeed, a meeting of the board before the game was played, telling Mr. Lumsden that the members were present on the grounds, and that we could easily meet and settle the question at issue. This he promised to arrange, but I did not see him again, and subsequently was approached by Mr. Pulcher, who, in an apologetic manner, informed me of the meeting of the board and its decision. Now, Mr. Lumsden may have been informed of the particulars of the game in dispute, but nevertheless it was my desire to have witnesses other than the men who played in the game so that the board could have had disinterested testimony before them.

SAD LITTLE BUNNIE.

HAVING LOST ITS COMPANION IT IS LONELY AND WILL NOT EAT.

Shops Will Only Work Half Time for the Present-Novel Races at Whitby-Other Manchester News.

Mr. R. C. Broaddus last night related to the Disparch man a rather strange yet pathetic story relative to two tame squirrels. A month or so ago Messrs. Broaddus & Sharp purchased two young squirrels, and fixed for the little bunnies a nice home in one of the windows to their store. The little animals soon became quite tame and passers by, particularly the children. A bush was placed in the window, and the squirrels would run and jump about the boughs as though they were in their native wilds and to all appearances were perfectly happy and contented. On Thursday afternoon some one left the window open and one of the tree-climbers escaped. As soon as the squirrel that was left found out its loneliness it seemed to take on almost human grief, and sitting down upon the floor at the window it quietly folded its tiny fore feet over its head and would take no notice of anything. All day vesterday it acted the same way and has taken no food since the loss of its mate. Mr. Broaddus says it is really pitific to note the distress of the little animal. He thinks some one must have caught the passers by, particularly the children. A He thinks some one must have caught the one that escaped, as it was very gentle, or else it fell a victim to some prowling dog. AFTER TWENTY-TWO YEARS.

"A MIGHTY SLICE ARTICLE."

There was an amusing nerse-race at Whith sorrel mare that he thinks is "a might slick article." The other young man lives in the same fashionable locality and is the proud possessor of a handsome, black, high-headed gelding that can step along at a lively clip. The relative speed of the two horses has been a matter of much contention, so the young gentlemen decided to take a day off and a trip to Whithy and test the matter. It was soon apparent that the man with the "mighty slick article" was not in the race and the black came down the home-stretch an easy winner. THE HARDEST WEEK. It Is Gone and the Business World Still Rejetices is Soundness.

By telegraph to the Dispatch.

New York, July 28.—R. G. Dun & Co., a weekly review of trade to-morrow will say: The hardest week has left the business world still able to rejoice in the soundness and strength disclosed. The prices of stooks were greatly depressed Tuesday and Wednesday, closing lower, than on any other day since January, 1870. The fall on Wednesday averaging over $20 per share, and yet only two failures resulted, and they saveraging over $20 per share, and yet only two failures resulted, and they shorts, and especially simportant. A sharp rally followed by shorts, and especially for shorts, and especially simports, with the principulation of the company had been larged to the lands of a receiver, though for eight months of a receiver than a received that the own in the was in the balance of the receiver of the second of the receiver of the receiver of the second of the receiver of the receiver is expected, as the receiver of the receiver of the receiver of the rece business.

The failures during the past week number 386 in the United States against 171 last year, and 23 in Canada against 22 last year. It is noteworthy that there were only 3 failures of houses with capital above $200,000 each and only 99 with capital over $5,000 each. Over 56 banks stopped during the wide but nearly all were at the West. the week, but nearly all were at the West. Last week the failures in the United States numbered 457 and the week pre-and there has been no reason to report any improvement in business as a whole. Nearly twenty banks in Indianapolis. Louisyille, Milwatkee, Helena, Spokane, and Portland, Ore., have been compelled to suspend payment, not countries explicit funestal institutions at peried to suspend payment, not counting smaller financial institutions at smaller centres. The volume of trade is about one half the usual total. The condition of interier trade is characterized in our Chicago trade dispatch, which says business there is quiet in all lines. Few orders are received for fall end winter delivery and the volume of general business at that centre is admittedly much smaller than at a like period last year. In contrast the welcome improvement at Baltimore. New Orleans, Minneapolis, and San Francisco is worth noting. At the first easier money is based on smaller demand due to smaller volume of trade, but New Orleans declares that the general stringency has had less influence there than elsewhere. Collections are fairly good, staples are moving more freely, and with excellent crop prospects, the outlook is almost satisfactory. Minneapolis reports a large volume of trade, fair for the season, and the receipts of orders for ciothing and dry goods for future delivery. At San Francisco the general situation is casior, and free articular of wheat at tidewater are stimulating business.

Taking the South as a whole there is practically no change this week in the money market or state of trade and industry, collections being slow and business only fair for the season at best, with trifling exceptions. Collections are less prompt at Richmond and orders are scarce, but country merchants order more freely at Charleston. There is a tendency to greater ease for money at Nashville, and Memphis reports crop prospects good, while Savannan, Chattanooga and Birming has been reported freely at Atlanta, and Mobile banks are renowing paper more freely. Trade at Galveston is quiet, new wheat being held there for higher prices and Texas hay is going to Europe.

Sr. Louis, Mo., July 28.—The advance guard of Colorado miners tramping eastward have entered Missouri, and every railroad track leading towards the Mississippi river is black with humanity. Trainmen have given up all attempts to keep them off the trains and are now permitting them to ride unmolested.

Denver, Col., July 23,—Camp Relief, at River-Front Park, is in perfect working order to-day, and over a 1,000 unemployed were fed during the day. Tents were crected capable of sheltering 500 or more persons, and they are being used to lodge part of the indigent. During the day about 600 men were taken from the city by the different trains. At times the scenes at the union yards in East Denver and the vicinity of Fortieth street were quite exciting. There was an immense crowd waiting for the outgoing trains, and when one of them came along a scramble would be made to get aboard. The train officials, knowing how impossible it would be to keep them off, gracefully submitted, and in this way about six hundred persons left town. This evening the crowd entered many of the bakeries and stores and asked for food. No threats were made, but they got nearly all they wanted. Passing mikwagons also contributed to the needy and no serious trouble ensued. To-night everything is quiet.

KANSAS CITY. Mo., July 28.—The operators are now confident that the backbone of the miners' strike in Southeastern Kansas is broken. St. Louis reports a fair trade for the season, except in building, and no complaints among jobbers. At Knoxville and Nashville trade is fair. At Little Rock very conservative, but safe. At Columbus and Macon the outlook is good, though money is tight.
